

Union Official Dies After Injury In Gun Fight

Percy Lemley Fatally Injured In Argument Over Union Hospitalization Service

As a result of an argument growing out of hospitalization service for members, Percy Lemley, 25, president of the United Mine Workers of America local, at Aldrich, died in a Birmingham hospital Tuesday morning and George W. Nasworthy, about 58, night watchman at Aldrich Mines, was in jail in Columbiana.

Nasworthy surrendered to Montevallo Chief of Police Clyde Gardner Sunday afternoon after he confessed to shooting down Lemley in the heat of an argument in front of the Aldrich postoffice.

According to Gardner, there had been a disagreement between the two men over the hospital service plan sponsored by the union, and that Nasworthy had insisted Lemley used his authority to change hospitals. He said that Lemley had told Nasworthy that he did not have this authority.

The argument reached a climax Sunday afternoon. Lemley had come into town to meet the train and met Nasworthy in front of the postoffice.

Gardner said that after an exchange of words, Nasworthy drew his gun and fired five times, three of the bullets striking Lemley in the body.

The union official was carried to a hospital in Birmingham and died Tuesday morning.

Gardner said Nasworthy came to his office in Montevallo soon after the shooting and gave himself up and asked to be put in jail.

He was placed under arrest and sent to the county jail at Columbiana. His bail, which was first placed at $2,000, was raised to $5,000 Monday morning, according to Sheriff W. B. White.

Unemployed Receive $3,548.99 In County

Montgomery, Ala.—Alabama paid $389,785.10 in unemployment benefits to eligible workers in July, compared with $361,523.17 in June, Judge John D. Petree, director of industrial relations, reported today. July payments were $28,261.93 greater than the total for June, the increase being attributed to seasonal unemployment which comes to some industries in Alabama during the summer months.

Total payments in Shelby County were $3,548.99 with $3,155.58 going to persons who were totally unemployed and $393.41 to persons who were partially unemployed.

Lawrence County collected only $41.51 from the trust fund, thus maintaining its position at the bottom of the list, which it has held for many months in the period of unemployment benefit payments. Lowndes had the second lowest figure, with total collections of $80.15.

Jefferson County, of course, received the largest amount in benefits, its total for July being $109,811.41 represented by 13,051 checks. Payments in other industrial counties were as follows: Calhoun, $22,362.82; Etowah, $23,097.24; Madison, $4,935.48; Montgomery, $14,852.33; Mobile, $42,362.16; Walker, $10,288.26.

Residents of other states received $16,223.66 from Alabama's trust fund, having become unemployed after creating qualifying earnings in Alabama and moving to other states. Their claims were received by the agencies of the states in which they now reside and were forwarded to the Alabama Department of Industrial Relations for final approval and payment under the Alabama law.

Unemployed workers on the Alabama benefit roll totaled 12,651 on July 15, when the last check was made.

Lucas Family Holds First Reunion

On Sunday, August 13, the children of N. T. Lucas met at Spring Creek for their first family reunion. Although the weather was rather disagreeable, at a reasonable hour the Lucases and their children began to arrive. Four sons and two daughters, their wives and husbands and families ran the number present to nearly 60. With the visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lawrence of Centreville, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Johnson of Montevallo, Toots Douglas of Ebenezer, and Mrs. Yeager of Montevallo, the total present was 65.

Several of the relatives were forced to miss this first reunion on account of illness. Officers were elected and a committee to make arrangements for the next meeting was appointed. A regular day, the third Sunday in August, was set as "Lucas Reunion Day." Sam Knowles was elected president, Bill Johnson, secretary.

N. T. Lucas was a Baptist minister. He and his wife are both dead but their memory lingers on in the hearts of the people in Calera and surrounding communities. The sons are Manser, Clay, Theo, and Reggie, and the daughters are Mrs. Garnette Knowles and Mrs. Alpha Quinn of Powderly.

An old-fashioned basket dinner with barbecue and lemonade was enjoyed by all. Young and old joined in the singing of gospel hymns. The crowd, with one voice, proclaimed it a wonderful day and expressed many thanks to Spring Creek for use of such an enjoyable place.

Birmingham, Ala.—A youth who earned his way through high school working at jobs ranging from coal mining to drug store clerking today had been declared winner of a full four-year scholarship to Birmingham-Southern College, along with a Bessemer high school student-leader, both being high scorers on the Phi Beta Kappa honor tests held August 4 at Southern.

The announcement came from Dr. Wyatt W. Hale, Hilltop dean, who said each of the two boys, Harry Talmadge Letherwood, Altoona High School, and Joseph Robert Horn, Bessemer High School, Bessemer, Ala., would receive $800 scholarships to Birmingham-Southern.

The two youths were declared winners over their 273 competitors in the Phi Beta Kappa Honor Scholarship Tests, Letherwood chalking up the highest score of any student out of Jefferson County, and Horn the highest mark of any Jefferson County student.

Second Place Winners

Second place winners, each of whom will receive $400 scholarships to Birmingham-Southern to cover tuition for two years were Bob Lively, Ensley High School, Birmingham, and Mary Kate Nungester, Decatur High School, Decatur, Ala.

Third place winners who will be awarded $200 scholarships to Birmingham-Southern for one year are Patricia Pittman, West End High School, Birmingham, and Conrad Dale Greene, Coffee High School, Florence, Ala.

Scoring the highest mark of any student from any of the 41 counties represented other than Jefferson, young Letherwood goes far to disprove the old adage: "All work

John Selman Weds Miss Mary Watson

The marriage of Miss Mary Watson, daughter of Mrs. Andrew Hume Watson, of Montevallo, and John Selman, of Troy, was solemnized at 10 a.m. Saturday, August 12, at the home of the bride's mother in Montevallo: Dr. Fred B. Pearson, pastor of the Montevallo Baptist Church, read the vows in the presence of relatives and a few friends.

The bride wore a costume of navy blue sheer. With this she wore a navy stitched felt and matching accessories which added to the effectiveness of the ensemble. Her flowers were a corsage bouquet of roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Selman is a graduate of Alabama College, where she received her A. B. degree. Later she received an M. A. degree from the University of Alabama.

Mr. Selman is the son of Mrs. Mary Murphree Selman, of Troy, and the late John P. Selman.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal couple left for a wedding trip to the Carolinas, after which they will be at home at Troy.

Mrs. Winifred Black Awarded Scholarship

Dr. A. F. Harman, president of Alabama College, announced today that a recent alumna of the college, Mrs. Winifred Castleman Black, of Mobile, has been awarded a graduate scholarship at the University of North Carolina where she will continue work in psychology. Mrs. Black did her undergraduate major in psychology under Dr. Katherine Vickery of the Alabama College faculty, and was graduated with high scholastic honors in her chosen field. Since completing her work at Montevallo, she has been active in Red Cross work in the state, and is retiring secretary of the Mobile chapter of the American Red Cross. She will begin her studies at Chapel Hill this fall.

Dr. Orr has made the following announcement to the faculty and to the student body: "In view of the fact that a day was saved in registering, the second term will close at the end of the day, Tuesday, August 22."

Miss Hattie Lyman left Saturday for Miami Beach where she will spend her vacation.

Miss Frances Trueman, editor of the 1939 Technala, visited friends on the campus during this past week-end.

Miss Eva Golson went home Saturday night to see her sister, Hilda, (class of 1936) off to New York where she will stay a short time before sailing to Puerto Rico.

Miss Florence Tillman returned to Washington, D. C., Saturday, after a visit with her aunt, Miss Ollie Tillman, and her mother, Mrs. Pearl Tillman. Miss Tillman graduated at Alabama College in 1937, and is now holding a responsible position with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation in Washington.

The Alabamian staff is on the campus this week making plans for the forthcoming issue of The Alabamian. The following girls are already at work: Misses Frances Scarbrough, Mary Sterne, Lois Anne Smith, and Jeanne Appleton.

Mrs. Hardy, Miss Thompson, Dr. Orr, and Mr. Varnell have returned from their trip to Chapel Hill, N. C. While they were there, the Montevallo staff of high school teachers was called together, by Dr. Orr, to consider plans for further integration of high school classes. This group also had the privilege of meeting with the entire work shop staff at a later date, for the purpose of securing a broader viewpoint for next year's planning.

Germany, France, Spain and Korea Are Countries To Be Represented On Campus

The most cosmopolitan note in Alabama College campus history will be struck this fall when returning students find as classmates, not one foreign exchange student, but four—each from a different corner of the world.

There is to be a fair fraulein who has grown up in Hitler Germany; a senorita who is now a Spanish refugee because her family were staunch friends of republican Spain; a French girl from Bordeaux; and a Korean student is returning for her second year at the Montevallo institution.

Miss Ilse-Lore Muller, the German representative, is from Berlin, a graduate of the famous Studienanstalt, a German secondary school and junior college, of which her father has been headmaster for many years.

Youngest of this foreign contingent is young Mlle. Jacqueline Aramberri, and attractive brunet, just turned 18. She is from the old port town of Bordeaux in provincial France.

Miss Incarnacion Marayta, a Spanish loyalist sympathizer, brings with her the most vivid memories of the world's troubled state, for she witnessed the ebb and flow of three years of civil war around her native Madrid. She is a graduate of the University of Madrid, whose campus was a battleground, and whose historic buildings bear the scars and shell marks of General Franco's trench mortars.

Fourth member of this contingent from abroad is petite Miss Kapsoun Kim, of Korea, who was a student at Alabama College last year. Miss Kim has been a counselor at Camp Winnataska this summer.

The presence of the three European representatives at Montevallo has been made possible through arrangements with the Institute of International Education, New York, of which Dr. Stephen Duggan is director. Under the plan of the Institute, the three girls will teach conversational classes in German, French, or Spanish in return for their expenses at Alabama College during their American visit. Steamship lines extended special student rates to students sponsored by the Institute, and in return for their presence in America a selected list of American college students are permitted to go abroad to continue their studies.

Local Insurance Woman Honored

Mrs. Irah M. Cain, representative of Liberty National Life Insurance Company of Birmingham, leaves Saturday for Biloxi and New Orleans, to attend a meeting of the company's leading producers, it was announced today by Frank P. Samford, president of the company. The occasion is the annual meeting of the "Torch Club" composed of the best producers among the five hundred agents of the firm. Membership is a coveted distinction sought for throughout the year.

In announcing the honor accorded Mrs. Cain, Mr. Samford stated, "Mrs. Cain's record for the past twelve months has been outstanding and she deserves congratulations for the fine service she has given her many policy owners in her community. It is a pleasure to announce her qualification for the company's highest honor, membership in the Torch Club."

Liberty National Life Insurance Company was organized in 1900 and has continuously operated in the South, West, and portions of the East since that time. More than two hundred twenty-five thousand people now own Liberty National policies, Mr. Samford stated, and assets of the company exceed five million dollars.

VIRGINIA ASKS HELP

Many people of Montevallo and Alabama College were interested in the following paragraph from the column of John Temple Graves II in Monday's Birmingham Age-Herald:

"When Virginia has to ask Alabama to help her search out Virginia history, that is news. And that is what those who are piecing together the intimate history of colonial Williamsburg have done. They have invited Miss Mary McWilliams, of the history department of Alabama College, to become associated with them in this famous task. Dr. Hunter Farish, director of the research work in progress at Williamsburg, made known the selection recently."

FARM NOTES

By A. A. Lauderdale,
County Agent

Now is the time to clear off branch bottoms and prepare for fall seeding. Branch bottoms make the best pasture because the soil is most fertile and will have sufficient moisture.

Permanent pasture should be mowed to control weeds and clip out old tough grass. If bushes are on the pasture, they should be cut and the pasture made ready for mowing.

It is now time to prepare for fall planting of winter legumes and place orders for seed and fertilizer. Under the farm program a good part of the payment is for land building, and planting winter legumes is probably the most important land building practice we have in Shelby County.

On many farms in Shelby County there will not be enough feed made to take care of the farm needs another year. This can be offset in most cases by planting one sack of oats this fall for each mule on the farm. Oats should be planted early.

There is still time to plant a fall garden and it is advisable that this garden be planted on low land.

Chickens should be kept free from lice and mites. Lice are easily controlled by using nicotinic sulphate, and mites by mopping the roost poles with a mixture of used motor oil and kerosene.

A card to The Times from Mrs. Inzer Reid says that she has completed the requirements for her master's degree at Columbia University in New York, and she will soon return to Montevallo. Her many friends will be glad to see her.

DR. AND MRS. McCLOSKEY ON WESTERN TOUR

According to word received by friends at the college from Dr. and Mrs. Gordon McCloskey, they had reached Crater Lake National Park in Southern Oregon last week, and found that scenic wonder the highlight of their western tour which began in July. Dr. and Mrs. McCloskey are making a leisurely circuit of the western parks and other attractions, and will return east by way of the northern route, stopping in Pennsylvania to get their young daughter who has been visiting relatives there this summer. They will reach Montevallo in time for the opening of the college in early September.

Frank Wyatt, Jr. Gives Account Of 4-H Club Leadership Meeting

Below is Frank Wyatt, Jr.'s account of the leadership camp at Auburn, July 10-15. Frank, with Floyd Blankenship, Fannie Mae Perkins, and Johnnie Clark, represented the Shelby County 4-H Clubs at this event in Auburn, and his comments on the camp program will prove interesting and enlightening to every reader.

As usual, the 4-H leadership camp was held at Auburn this year. This camp was the second camp of its kind to be held in the state. I was certainly glad to be asked to attend this camp by Mr. W. M. Clark, our 4-H Club agent. There were two boys and two girls from each county who attended. Those from this county were Fannie Mae Perkins of Calera, Johnnie Clark of Wilkesville, and Frank Wyatt, Jr., of Vincent. We were accompanied by Miss Marian Cotney, the home demonstration agent.

We spent about four hours in Montgomery, visiting such interesting places as Maxwell Field, the Capitol, the State Highway Department Building, the White House of the Confederacy, and a general tour of the city. I was lucky to see our representative, Mr. Ellis, at the Capitol.

We registered about 3 p.m. at the auditorium, Bibb Graves Center at the state camp in Auburn. Then we toured the city of Auburn and campus until about 5:30 p.m. We started the camp right off by having vespers in the amphitheatre, then a very enjoyable supper at the auditorium.

Group Discussions

We were divided into six groups and Shelby County was placed in Group One. The subject selected to study was "Land Tenure." Each day we took up a different phase of this subject. Tuesday, we studied "Land Tenure—Meaning and Effect." This discussion was held each day from 10:45 until 12:15 and Mr. P. O. Davis made a talk on this subject. Wednesday we studied "Land Tenure—Effect on County." Mr. L. L. Self made a talk on this subject. In connection with effect on the county we discussed "Land Tenure—Effect on the Community." Miss Lavada Curtis made a talk on this subject. Thursday, Dr. B. F. Austin, director of the Bureau of Hygiene and Nursing, State Department of Public Health, made a talk on "Land Tenure—Its Effect on Health." This was a very interesting subject and Dr. Austin made a fine talk on it.

Friday, Miss Etna McLaugh, State Home Demonstration Agent, talked on "Land Tenure and its Effect on the Home." We had a general discussion of the week's study.

Land tenure is a serious problem and every person should think about it and try to help Shelby County and Alabama build up, help more farmers to become land owners so they will have something to look forward to by owning and improving a home.

The County and Land Tenure

Some people might ask the question, why is the county interested in land tenure? In answering this question we might say the first important thing is the welfare of its people. Every county likes to boast of having a high standard of living, a good soil conservation program, well educated people who are good managers, people who have a feeling of economic and social security, people who have a high type of social and community life, people who take interest in their country, state, and national government.

A second point in answering this question is our county officials. Why are our county officials interested in land tenure? If we study this question very seriously, we find that the county superintendent of education is interested because children of tenant families require one-fifth more time than children from families who own their own farms.

The county commissioners are interested because tenant families do not take as active an interest in county affairs and require relatively more attention; the probate judge because of the landlord-tenant disputes, and because of the extra work in keeping records on families who move so often; the county health officer because of the many of the tenant families, particularly the cropper families, suffer from inadequate diets and diseases—malaria, pellagra, etc. Many tenant homes do not have adequate sanitary facilities and landlords will not try to improve the sanitary facilities on their farms. The county agent is interested because it is more difficult to help a class of farmers who have no permanent or long-time interest in their farms.

The things that I have mentioned are just a few things that we might say in answer to this question. The people in Alabama and Shelby County have got to awaken to this problem and do something about it if we ever expect to progress.

Farm Security

The government has already started a program whereby they buy so many tenants' farms a year. A worthy aim for every person is Shelby County is to give the farmer security, to promote his participation in community and county activities, and to encourage his interest in building up his farm, knowing that he will remain to profit thereby.

The 4-H leadership camp was held to try to help boys and girls in the equal training of the head, heart, hands, and health. For what is the head trained? To think, plan, and reason. The heart is trained to be kind, true, and sympathetic. The hands are trained to be useful, helpful, and skillful. The health is trained to resist disease, make for efficiency and enjoyable life. The four H's in club work symbolize these things.

Glee Club

A Glee Club was organized at the camp and we had music each day furnished by it. Good music is an asset to every good camp. I think our cabin was the best one in camp. We placed second in the soft ball tournament, won stunt night, and a boy from our cabin won first place in a buck dancing contest. Our cabin participated in other activities.

Every 4-H Club boy or girl should strive to go to this camp and become better club members and better leaders in his or her community.

I think every 4-H Club member who attended this camp enjoyed it to the utmost and would like to attend it again. The trip going and coming, the speakers, the discussion groups, the recreation periods, soft ball games, horseshoes, table tennis, and other games that you could participate in during the recreation periods were splendid. The camp as a whole was a very enjoyable and educational week that I shall never forget.

VACANCIES ANNOUNCED IN REGULAR ARMY RESERVE

The United States Army Recruiting Office, Room 29, Federal Building, Birmingham, announces that vacancies exist in the Regular Army Reserve Corps.

The Regular Army Reserve is a part of the inactive Regular Army. Members of this branch consist of ex-regular army soldiers, who have had one year service, were honorably discharged, and are under 36 years of age.

It is urged that men who are qualified for this enlistment contact this office, so that their enlistment can be accomplished.

Being a member of the reserve does not in any way interfere with one's civil occupation or job. The only time a member is called upon for duty, is in case of national emergency. Members are enlisted in the grade they held at the time of their discharge from the Regular Army. An allowance of two dollars per month is given members by check every four months.

Kenneth, leave this week to join Mr. Holcombe in Chattanooga, where he is employed by the Good-year Tire and Rubber Co.

AAA PAYMENTS

Auburn, Ala. — A report of the state AAA committee today revealed that $2,309,720 in AAA payments under the 1939 program would be used to increase payments to small farmers whose payments would be less than $200. Available payments under the program are $27,131,840.59, which includes price adjustment payments, soil building allowance, and payments on cotton, peanuts, tobacco, and wheat.

Under the 1938 agricultural adjustment act provision was made for increasing those payments to a farm of less than $200 by a graduating scale. For example, a payment of $20 calculated under regular terms of the program would be increased 40 per cent, or a payment of more than $186 would be increased to $200.

"This provision has made it possible for small farmers to receive more under the AAA program than they would ordinarily," according to W. B. Crawley, Banks, vice-chairman of the state committee.

Examples of the amount of increase per county are as follows: Autauga increased $17,360.84; Winston increased $23,518.35; Franklin $34,137.44; and Pike increased $36,697.43. Highest increase is $79,996.45 and the lowest is $8,381.72. These amounts are based on the number of farms in the county which will draw payments of less than $200.

Health Officer Urges Child Examinations

Montgomery, Ala.—Dr. J. N. Baker, State Health Officer, today urged parents of school children, especially those about to enter the first grade, to have them examined for physical defects that, if uncorrected, might interfere with the successful performance of their school duties.

"Experts in the field of child care have estimated that four out of every five babies are physically normal at birth," he said. "If this is true, it means that approximately 50,350 physically normal babies were born in Alabama last year. Unfortunately, however, they do not remain in that condition, as is shown by the fact that more than 5,000 Alabama children died of various causes in 1937 before reaching their sixth birthdays. Even more impressive perhaps is the fact that, when more than 92,000 children of the going-to-school age were examined a few years ago, no less than 43 per cent are found to be in need of some kind of medical attention."

The State Health Officer referred to reports of the State Department of Health showing that, during the school year 1936-37, nearly one-

COTTON GROUPS GET FREE CLASSING DONE

Auburn, Ala.—J. C. Lowery, agronomist of the State Extension Service, said this week that 26 one-variety cotton communities had applied for the free classing services of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Nearly 100 others have indicated their desire for the service which allows growers belonging to one-variety associations to get free classing service on their crops.

Lowery has urged county agents and growers to make applications as soon as possible if they wish to obtain this service. County agents will assist association officers in making the application. Georgia and Texas are two states in which this service is being widely used, according to Lowery.

fifth of all the pupils enrolled were absent on an average school day and expressed the belief that correction of physical defects and careful safeguarding of pupils' health would cut absences sharply.

and no play makes Jack a dull boy." He has supported himself since he was 13 years old and since his graduation from Altoona High School in 1938, has worked in a mine near his home.

An "A" Student

Outstanding in high school, he was president of his senior class, maintained an all "A" average, won a football letter for three years, wrote short stories in his "spare" time—in addition to working outside all the while.

Likewise outstanding in high school, young Horn was active in speech activities, was a member of the track team, a member of the editorial staff of his school paper, and vice-president of the student body.

He has been prominent in activities of the Episcopal Church as vice-president of the Episcopal Young People's League of Alabama. At the present time he is representing his church at a meeting of the Episcopal Young People at Sewanee, Tenn.

Each of the other four scholarship winners likewise was prominent in high school. Among them are class presidents, honor society presidents, religious leaders, class valedictorians, and paper editors.

The tests, held at Birmingham-Southern August 4 "to stimulate high school scholarship to the extent of making it pay in a material way," brought to the campus representatives from 85 high schools, six states and 42 of Alabama's 67 counties.

Total value of scholarships awarded was $2,800.

Other High Scorers

Among other students scoring high marks on the tests were: Annie Lillie Phillips High School; Hobson Adcock, Marshall County; Mary Janette Munketrick, Ramsay and Kent Place (Summit, N. J.); C. W. Horton, Hazelwood; Mary Norton, Leeds; Robert Farnham, Harriman (Tennessee) High; Elizabeth Odom, Woodlawn; Martha C. Mitchell, Fayetteville; Joseph Cox, Fairfield; Thomas Owen Ryland, Fort Lauderdale (Florida) High; Frank Davidson, Jr., Phillips; Carolyn Eddins, Frisco City; Lellon Holt, Phillips; Donald Vaughan, Montevallo; Frederick Bush, Phillips; Roy O. Hill, Dothan; Louise C. Holloway Ramsay; Ralph Carr, Anniston; Alwyn Sugerman, Ramsay; Maurice Clay, Haleyville; Selma Solomon, Ramsay; Peggy Henry, Asheville; and others.

BETTY PHILLIPS AND WILBURN MAY WED

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Phillips, of Fairfield, announce the marriage of their daughter, Betty, to Wilburn Fay, of Dothan, on Friday, July 28, at the Presbyterian Church in Marianna, Fla.

The bride is a graduate of Alabama College and has worked for several years as a laboratory technician.

Mr. May is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren May, of Dothan. He was educated in the Dothan schools and the University of Cincinnati.

Mr. and Mrs. May will be at home at 502 North St. Andrews Street in Dothan.

Alabama ranks first among the states in the mileage of navigable rivers, with 1,600 miles, according to the Alabama State Chamber of Commerce.

Aimed at encouraging Alabamians to buy Alabama-made products, a retail buyers guide will be published shortly by the Alabama State Chamber of Commerce.
